RACING IN MUD AND RAIN.

ASTORIA FOR SUE SMITH.

Wotan Outfoots Suburban Eligibles in Bad News and Witful.

The effect of the miserable weather was shown at Gravesend yesterday in the lack of spectators and performers alike. The former was confined strictly to the "regulars" and the latter to horses that have shown ability to wade through deep mud. Withdrawals in many cases cut the original field in two, and from a distance the grandstand looked aimost wholly deserted.

Fortunately, the renewal of the Astoria Stakes, for two-year-old fillies, was not seriously harmed by the blue pencil, and the addition of Pierre Lorillard's Nil almost brought the field up to its original strength. The absentees were the Goughacres Stable's Indra and the Oneck Stable's Flaming Star. The Astoria, which is at five furiongs, and is restricted to fillies, is one of the thorough sporting features of the Gravesend meeting, and is virtually a sweepstake. Its subscribers are generally confined to the most prominent members of the turf. On form, Captain Sam Brown's Mazetto filly Sue Smith seemed so much the best of the quartet that speculation on the race was rather light. The makers of odds never offered better than even money, and at post time her price was 5 to 3 on. Both Hekste and Nil found some support and were each backed down a point, the former from 5 to 1 to 4 to 1 and the latter from 8 to 1 to 7 to 1.

Sue Smith was so superior to her opponents that the stake was devoid of any exciting incidents. Jack Martin got her into her stride almost immediately the barrier went up, and, taking her out to make the running, kept her in front to the finish, winning easily enough from Incorrigible by five lengths. The added starter ettempted to give Sue Smith some argument, and succeeded with a degree of success until the home turn was reached, when she gave up the task in disgust and ran out. Hekate did not show the mud running qualities that were expected of her, and after a sharp struggle gave way to Incorrigible. As a large proportion of the value of the stake is supposed to be expended in a dinner to the subscribers, Captain Sam Brown will have the pleasure of playing host some evening this week.

The condition of the track changed the plan of Mr. Duryea to give Irish Lad another trial before the running of the Suburban, and he was withdrawn early in the afternoon from a handicap for horses which had not won at the meeting. The great son of Candelmas was only one of half a dozen that blinked the contest, and the field was repleted both in numbers and class. Both E. R. Bradley's Bad News and E. E. Smathers's Witful, two candidates for the handleys the contest therefore. Smathers's Witful, two candidates for the handicap, were left in, and the contest therefore was not robbed of all its interest. Both the Flying Dutchman gelding and the Mirthful mare will have to run a better race in the Suburban than they did yesterday to seriously endanger the chances of the other horses. Sim Demiel's four-year-old colt Wotan, with 105 pounds up and ridden by Miller, showed the way to the Suburban candidates from the start to the finish of the mile and a sixteenth route, and won with something in reserve from Captain Brown's bay colt Agile. In their calculation for the Suburban, however, few of the form students will be willing to accept the race Bad News will be willing to accept the race Bad News will be willing to accept the race Bad News ran as his correct form.

In the classic elegance of the talent there was a strong suspicion that "they were only kiddin" with Bad News. If they were not, little Kelly, who had the mount on him, ought to have a pint of nitro giycerine or some other equelly powerful heart stimulant administered to him when he rides the horse again. At no time would he have been conspicuous in a funeral procession. Miller, on the other hand gave a would he have been conspicuous in a funeral procession. Miller, on the other hand, gave a capital exhibition on Wotan, and succeeded in following "Bill" Daly's threadbare advice, "Wait out in the front," with admirable results. There were times when he had the colt under double wraps, but when any one challenged he shook them off, and won from Agile in a clever fashion by a couple of lengths. Martinmas was the runner up, beating Witful by nearly two lengths. Bad News steadily dropped back until he findshed last.

To the surprise of his owner, the Star Shoot colt, Cary, won a maiden two-year-old race, at five and a half furlongs, from Billy Bannister, Bill Phillips, and six or seven others. Cary had to close a lot of ground to beat his field, and only won by a head from Billy Bannister. Quorum, the favorite, again disappointed his followers. Only one favorite caught the eyes of the judges first.

William Astor Chanler's Hekate, which the purists of the turf insist upon pronouncing He-kate with a masculine accent on the He, has scarcely run up to the form of her distinguished namesake run up to the form of her distinguished namesake. The first Hecate was a pretty shifty performer in her time and was much thought of by Pluto and his set. As she ran under the name of Juno in Heaven, Diana on earth and Proserpine in Sheol, it seems at this late day, without knowing the Jockey Club rules, that she was lucky to get off without being accursed by the stewards of being a "ringer." According to the best logical "dope," the original Hecate is now in Sheol, and that is where the unfortunate ones who thought she could beat Sue Smith yesterday consigned He-Cate with some fervency after the running of the Astoria.

The three-year-old chestnut filly Campo, by Hastings-Campfire, which James Blute bid up and bought from Thomas Monahan a few days ago, was purchased by Thomas Hitchcock, fr., yesterday at a price which will give Blute a nice profit on his investment. It is the intention of Mr.

WOMEN GOLFERS TO PLAY.

Pairings for To-day's Play in Metropolitan Championship.

Rain was an unwelcome setback to the women golfers who had planned to spend yesterday in practice for the metropolitan golf championship, which opens this morning at Baltusrol links. But the wetting will make things bright and fresh for the qualifying round this morning, and the tournament has every prospect of fine weather for the balance of the week. There are thirty-three entries for to-day's play, which will be at eighteen holes medal play. Special interest will attend the reappearance of Mrs. Charles T. Stout, who has not played in a championship since her marriage. Mrs. Stout, as Miss Hecker, held the metropolitan championship in 1900 and 1902. The present champion, Mrs. E. H. Manice, who has held the title since 1902, will not be able to appear, but it is understood that she will be a competitor in the national championship, to which the present affair is a stepping stone. Other well known players entered are Miss Gertrude Travers, of Nassau, winner of the consolation prize in last year's championship; Mrs. T. H. Polhemus, of the Eastern Parkway nounced to-day that the Pennsylvania crews

The webbing which stretches across the track at the starting stand broke in the fifth race, and while Mr. Cassidy's assistants were adjusting it the starting bell was sounded accidentally and the apprentice boys that rode Champlain and Otsego were so keen to get away that they dug their heels into their mounts, and did not succeed in pulling them up much before the paddock turn was reached.

Willie Shields's Buttons was practically left at the post in this same race, but his rider was so anxious to be in the hunt that he beat the old swayback from start to finish. Shields hinted that the next time the boy punished one of his horses in that way the beating he gave Buttons would be altogether too lenient for him.

The turf folk who play "form," as opposed to The turf folk who play "form," as opposed to those who play "information," scored off the latter class nicely when Cary won the last race yesterday. Mr. Clay, the owner of the colt, was so confident that he would not run a winning race that he refrained from betting on him himself, and told his friends that he did not consider Cary a good investment. And he might not have been, had Lucien Lyne given him a less capable ride. Lyne lost his whip at the start, and had to bluff him with his hand for almost the entire journey.

RESULTS AT KENILWORTH PARK.

Buffalo, June 12 .- Favorites fared badly at Kenilworth to-day. Plantagenet, the favorite in the ourth race, was beaten a length by Depends who was quoted at 7 to 1. Depends got a strong ride, the boy hugging the rail all the way and saving much ground. The weather was cloudy and the track lumpy. The summaries follow:

The tournament is to be the last of the women's contests in the Metropolitan district until September, and for that reason the result will have a bearing on the national tournament, to be held at the Morris County Golf Club, beginning October 9. THE WESTBROOK TOURNAMENT.

Interest in the four day tournament of the West-brook Golf Club, which starts to-morrow at the brook Golf Club, which starts to-morrow at the Great River links, will centre largely in the meeting of Jerome D. Travers and Charles H. Seely, the metropolitan champion, whose defeat by Travers at Knollwood was the surprise of that meeting. Walter Travis is also entered together with C. B. Macdonald. E. S. Knapp. Archie Graham, Harold Wilcox, R. C. Watson, jr., Dwight Partridge, Percy Pyne, John Moller, Jr., and several other cracks. The course is said to be in splendid shape, and the scoring should be fast. The round is nine holes, measuring $0.04 yards. Harry Hollins, who is just back from a golfing trip abroad; Louis Livingston, Jr., and R. C. Watson, jr., held the record for it at 36. To-morrow's qualifying round will be at thirty-six holes, and the best sixteen will be eligible to continue at match play. ball, Says Pulliam.

Pittsburg, June 12.-Harry Pulliam, president of the National League, made the following statement in relation to the decision of Judge Sheldon in the McGraw case to-day:

on account of the encouragement it gives to rowdylsm in professional baseball.

There were three riots on baseball fields last week, one in the American League, one in the National League and one in the outlaw Tri-State League. As a result the manager of one club is now under bonds in criminal court to keep the peace.

In fining McGraw I simply followed the letter peace.

In fining McGraw I simply followed the letter of the law as given me unanimously by every National League club owner, and if I was wrong in that case I was wrong in every case I have acted on during my three years' administration. Judge Sheldon, in Boston, held that the Fleischman resolution was dead, for the reason that it was not re-enacted by the National League after the adoption of the new constitution. He held that under the Brush resolution any player removed from the game must be fined $10, with no appeal; but that if I took any further steps, under Section 28 of the constitution, I must give the player a trial. I fined McGraw under the Fleischman resolution, as I did Dan McGann, and as long as I am president of the National League there cannot be one law for John McGraw and another for Dan McGann.

Gann.
Following up Judge Sheldon's decision, on my return to New-York I shall request a meeting of the board of directors, and as a member of the board of directors I shall vote for the remission of every fine levied this year under the Fleischman resolution, where the penalty was more than $10. This will mean the return to the following players these sums: McGann, $90; Blankenship, $90; Warner, $90; Clymer, $110; Abbott, $40; Scheckard, $20; Wagner, $20, and Kelley, $20.

All the men were feeling well after their trip. The freshman squad did not come to quarters today, but are expected to-morrow. The make-up of the two 'varsity crews was as follows: A Novel and Interesting Feature for Mineola Fair Races.

A novel and interesting feature in automobile racing will be introduced on the opening day of the Agricultural Society Fair at Mincola on September 26. It will be in the nature of gymkhana sports, with a view to test the skill of the oper-tors and manageability of the machines.

A white strip will be placed in front of the judges' stand, on which at the beginning and ending of each lap the front wheels rest. Making a standing point, the machines will go to the quarter pole, pass around a barrel in the centre of the track and stop at the starting point.
